

News Release

November 12, 2012

For Immediate Release

Architectural Projects Earn State Awards

Three architects and three schools were recognized in the 2012 Virginia School Boards Association's Exhibition of School Architecture. The competition is held in conjunction with the VSBA annual convention. Winning projects were selected from 11 entries from 8 architectural firms in the areas of new construction, renovation and adaptive use of existing space. Members of the design review team will share their analysis of the school design projects recognized in the competition on Thursday, November 15th from 10:30-11:30 during the VSBA Annual Convention at the Williamsburg Lodge.

Recognized designs and firms were:

2012 VSBA Exhibition of School Architecture Awards

Fluvanna High School- Gold Design Award

BCWH Architects

Fluvanna County Public Schools

Crossroads Pre K-8 School- Gold Design Award

Moseley Architects

Norfolk City Public Schools

Buckingham County Primary & Elementary- Gold Design Award

School @ Carter G. Woodson Education Complex

VMDO Architects

Buckingham County Public Schools

Virginia School Boards Association, a voluntary, nonpartisan organization of Virginia school boards, promotes excellence in public education through advocacy, training and services.

For information, contact Gina Patterson, Deputy Executive Director at (434) 295-8722 or gina@vsba.org.
#